WOODBINE RECEIVES $300,000 IN DISCRETIONARY AID FUNDING FROM NJ DOT

Woodbine—Mayor William Pikolycky is pleased to announce that the New Jersey Department of Transportation has awarded the Borough of Woodbine discretionary aid funding in the amount of $300,000 to supplement funds previously received from Federal Emergency Management Administration and from the New Jersey Department of Community Affairs Small Cities program for drainage related reconstruction on various Borough roads.

The Borough recently received bids on this project with the low bid coming in at $1,461,731. As this bid exceeded the then available construction budget by almost $300,000 the current bids were rejected due to insufficient funds available. Since FEMA expects the Borough to mitigate the drainage problem that was originally identified in its entirety, reducing the project scope was not a viable solution.

This discretionary aid funding from the New Jersey Department of Transportation will now allow this project to move forward. This will result in a much needed improvement for the Borough that will include transportation related components including roadway paving; drainage improvements that will extend pavement life; and the reduction of safety issues attributed to flooding of the roads due to inadequate or non-existent drainage infrastructure.

“We are grateful to NJDOT for funding this request, giving us a viable way to mitigate the gap in funding needed to complete this long-planned and essential project,” concluded Mayor Pikolycky. “I thank the Christie Administration for responding quickly to our dilemma. We expect to be re-advertising shortly.”
