NEW JERSEY NATURE'S STEVE SERWATKA COMING TO WOODBINE LIBRARY

Woodbine—Mayor William Pikolycky is pleased to announce that Steve Serwatka of New Nature will be at the Woodbine branch of the Cape May County Library on Wednesday April 20 at 3 p.m.

Children ages six to twelve and their families are invited to see Steve as he explains how he saves endangered wild animals. He will even be bringing along some of the animals he has rescued for them to meet.

“And I also want to remind everybody that as of April 5th our branch library will again be open on Tuesday, as well as Thursday, nights until 7 p.m., “added Mayor Pikolycky.
