Create a Mosaic Candle Holder Demonstration At Woodbine Library Branch

Woodbine—Mayor William Pikolycky is pleased to announce that the Cape May County Library will be holding a demonstration at the Woodbine Branch, 800 Monroe Street, Woodbine, on Wednesday, January 23, from 2 to 3 p.m. on how to create a colorful stained glass candleholder that will come to life when combined with a lit tea candle.

Instructor Michele Pasciullo will demonstrate how to attach colored glass to a clear glass holder using the direct method of mosaic. Learn how to create a colorful stained glass candleholder that will come to life when combined with a lit tea candle.

Michele Pasciullo is a graphic designer with an AA from Cumberland County College. A member of Ocean City Fine Arts League, she's displayed and sold her work at local shops as well as given home parties and workshops.

"I am delighted that the County Library has expanded its offerings in Woodbine to now include arts-and-crafts demonstrations, and hope many of our residents and neighbors will take advantage of this free program," added Mayor Pikolycky.

As a follow-up to this demonstration, the library will hold a two-day workshop at the Sea Isle City branch, on January 25 and February 1, both days from 10 a.m. to noon, to make these candleholders. Contact the Main Branch at 463-6350 for more details concerning registration for this workshop).
